

U.S. Army Corps of Engineers
St. Paul District

www.mvp.usace.army.mil

Public Affairs

Corps Facts

John J. Bailen

June 23, 2004

Bio-04

---

John J. Bailen has served as the chief of the Engineering Division for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, St. Paul District, since October 1999.

Bailen first served the Corps of Engineers at Baltimore District in 1972 as an engineering intern. Since then, he has held a multitude of jobs, including study manager, engineer manager, project manager, engineering section chief and assistant engineering division chief. He has worked in planning, engineering and project management divisions. He taught the Corps-wide course "A-E Contracting" for several years. He spent two summers in Saudi Arabia on construction assignments. He is currently chair of the Corps-wide Senior Advisory CADD Committee.

He is a registered professional engineer and a civil engineering graduate of the University of Minnesota. Additionally, he is a member and past president of the Minneapolis-St. Paul Post for the Society of American Military Engineers.